

10 Luxury Hotels Opening in 2022

Introducing some of the most anticipated new properties to debut in the new year.

By Elise Schoening November 9, 2021

After a year and a half of little to no travel, many attendees are eager to meet in person again, making gatherings held in new destinations or at just-opened venues all the more enticing. Following is a sampling of posh new hotels set to debut across the country next year. From Chicago to Coral Gables, Fla., these properties offer ample space for groups and scenic settings for getting back to business.

Massachusetts

Raffles Boston Back Bay Hotel & Residences

Opening: Late 2022

Raffles' first property in North America will debut near Boston's Fenway Park with 147 guest rooms and 146 branded residences. Plans call for six F&B outlets, including a speakeasy and a sky bar, as well as 8,000 square feet of meeting space.