Get ready to pack your bags because 2022 will bring a host of high design hotels all around the world. From an intimate hotel in an 18th-century villa on Lake Como, Italy, to the rebirth of a brutalist building by Marcel Breuer in New Haven, Connecticut, these are the hotels we can't wait to check into.

Raffles Boston Back Bay Hotel & Residences

Marking Raffles' first mixed-use property in North America, this 35-story building will be a new landmark in Boston's posh Back Bay. Its three-story sky lobby will be a first for the city, offering panoramic views of Copley Square and the surrounding area. The project includes 146 residences designed by the Rockwell Group, while the hotel portion is being designed by Stonehill Taylor. Expect show-stopping spaces like a rooftop garden terrace, five restaurants and bars, and a spa with a 20-meter indoor pool. Opening 2022; raffles.com
